Happy New Year! (This One Has Got to Be Better...)

Scholars and Alumni Reconnect at the Winter Reunion

A silver lining of the pandemic has been the ability to come together in ways we had not considered before. Last Sunday, over 100 All Ways Up scholars and alumni "Zoomed In" for our first-ever virtual winter reunion.

ALL WAYS UP Awards Over $450,000 in Grants

In November, twenty-seven non-profit organizations were awarded 2020 Bridging the Gap Awards, totaling $295,000 in grant funds.

In addition to the grant awards, fifteen of our partners were selected to participate in a crowdfunding campaign in which All Ways Up will match the funds raised by each organization.

As is the case with so many events, this year we will hold our annual awards luncheon virtually in February. But, another silver lining - we will be able to welcome all of our community partners to celebrate the work they are doing in their communities.

Introducing New Programming to Help Scholars Prepare for the Workforce

For many of our scholars, finding meaningful employment upon graduation has become increasingly more difficult. We are excited to partner with FutureMap to offer a three-year holistic workforce program to support our scholars.

In conjunction with the workforce program, this summer All Ways Up will once again provide stipends to eligible scholars who secure career-focused internships. The benefits of a summer internship are far-reaching, but oftentimes our scholars are forced to make difficult choices because of financial need.
